

Why Abusers Pay Attention

- Personal or political reputation
- Access to political and economic benefits—goods, money, political support, weapons...
- International prosecution; avoiding blame; sustaining options for a political career.
- ‘Comparative image’ relative to opponents
- Ideological alliances
- Orders from superior officers
- Individual moral concerns

